Hi! I'm a recent master's graduate and I've been working as a software developer for two years. As a student and an enthusiast, I've used many different technologies, but professionally I focus mainly on frontend development, especially with Angular. I'm constantly learning new things, sometimes I've even taught others, and I'd love to keep growing together with you.

Experience

Frontend Dev | Regular

12.2024 - Current

Working on a client project – developing the frontend layer for an IoT solution using dedicated technology (but really, it's just JavaScript with some extras; we even use Svelte 4).

Frontend Dev | Junior

08.2023 - Current

Developing the frontend of a dedicated ERP-like system for a local financial consultancy – a fairly large project built with Angular and Firebase. Quite a lot of people have worked on it over time, and now it's mostly in maintenance mode (technically still on me).

Frontend Dev | Intern

06.2023 - 08.2023

Working in a small Agile team on one of our internal CRM projects – mainly frontend in Angular with a pinch of Django shenanigans on the backend.
